Definitions:

- Special purpose acquisition company (SPAC) is a company with no commercial operations that is formed strictly to raise capital through an initial public offering (IPO) for the purpose of acquiring an existing company. An initial public offering (IPO) refers to the process of offering shares of a private corporation to the public in a new stock issuance.
- A long/short fund is a type of mutual fund or hedge fund that takes both long and short positions in investments typically from a specific market segment. These funds often use several alternative investing techniques such as leverage, derivatives, and short positions to purchases relatively undervalued securities and sell overvalued ones.

Diversification does not ensure a profit or guarantee against loss.

- This information does not constitute an offer to sell, or a solicitation of an offer to purchase any securities mentioned.
- <sup>1</sup> Firm Assets Under Management (AUM) reflects Managed Assets, which includes the effects of leverage and investments in affiliated funds. AUM is not reflective of any pending redemption orders.
- <sup>2</sup> Other = Separately Managed Accounts 1.7%, Sub-Advised Strategies 2.1% and Exchange-Traded Funds 0.2%

RiverNorth Patriot ETF and RiverNorth Enhanced Pre-Merger SPAC ETF Disclosures:

Before investing, investors should consider each Fund's investment objectives, risks, charges, and expenses. The prospectus, or summary prospectus, containing this and other information may be obtained by visiting www.true-shares.com and should be read carefully prior to investing. Foreside Fund Services, LLC, distributor.

Each Fund may not achieve its objectives and/or you could lose money on your investment in either Fund. The Funds are recently organized with no operating history for prospective investors to base their investment decision which may increase risks. Some of each Fund's key risks, include but are not limited to the following risks. Please see each Fund's prospectus for further information on these and other risk considerations.

ETF Risks. As an ETF, each Fund is exposed to the additional risks, including: (1) concentration risk associated with Authorized Participants, market makers, and liquidity providers; (2) costs risks associated with the frequent buying or selling of Fund shares; (3) market prices may differ than the Fund's net asset value; and (4) liquidity risk due to a potential lack of trading volume.

The RiverNort Patriot ETF is also subject to the following risks: Equity Market Risk – securities held in the Fund's portfolio may experience sudden, unpredictable drops in value or long periods of decline in value. Market Events Risk – Markets have experienced significant periods of volatility in recent years due to a number of economic, political and global macro factors, including the impact of the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic and related public health issues, growing concerns and uncertainties regarding interest rates, trade tensions and the threat of tariffs resulting in volatility and negative impacts on asset prices, liquidity of certain securities and normal operations of the securities markets. New Fund Risk - The Fund is a recently organized investment company with no operating history. Other Potential Risks – The Fund may invest in "when-issued" securities; preferred stocks; rights/warrants; tracking stocks; investment company securities/pooled investments; REITs; and repurchase agreements. Investors should read the Fund's prospectus for more information related to these risks.

An investment in True-Shares is subject to numerous risks, including possible loss of principal. The ETFs are subject to the following principal risks: Authorized Participants, Market Makers, and Liquidity Providers Concentration Risk associated with ETFs; Equity Market Risk; Management Risk; Market Capitalization Risk (Large Cap; Mid Cap, Small Cap Stock); Market Risk; New Fund Risk; and Cyber Security Risk.

The RiverNorth Enhanced Pre-Merger SPAC ETF is also subject to the following risks: Leverage Risk. The use of leverage is speculative could magnify the Fund's gains or losses and increase risk. This is the speculative factor known as leverage. Borrowing also may cause the Fund to liquidate positions under adverse market conditions to satisfy its repayment obligations. Borrowing increases the risk of loss and may increase the volatility of the Fund. Pre-Combination (Pre-Merger) SPAC Risk. The Fund invests in equity securities and warrants of SPACs. Pre-combination SPACs have no operating history or ongoing business other than seeking Combinations, and the value of their securities is particularly dependent on the ability of the entity's management to identify and complete a profitable Combination. There is no guarantee that the SPACs in which the Fund invests will complete a Combination or that any Combination that is completed will be profitable. Unless and until a Combination is completed, a SPAC generally invests its assets in U.S. government securities, including stockholders affiliated with the management of the SPAC, may have sufficient voting power, and a financial incentive, to approve such a transaction without support from public stockholders.

Some SPACs may pursue Combinations only within certain industries or regions, which may increase the volatility of their prices. In addition, the Fund may invest in vehicles formed by SPAC sponsors to hold founder shares, which may be subject to forfeiture or expire worthless and which generally have more limited liquidity than SPAC shares issued in an IPO. In addition, the Fund may invest in vehicles formed by SPAC sponsors to hold founder shares, which may be subject to forfeiture or expire worthless and which generally have more limited liquidity than SPAC shares issued in an IPO. In addition, the Fund may invest in vehicles formed by SPAC sponsors to hold founder shares, which may be subject to forfeiture or expire worthless and which generally have more limited liquidity than SPAC shares issued in an IPO. Foreign Securities Risk. Foreign SPACs Investments in SPACs domiciled or listed outside of the U.S. may involve risks not generally associated with investments in the securities of U.S. SPACs, such as risks relating to political, social, and economic developments abroad and differences between U.S. and foreign regulatory requirements and market practices. Further, tax treatment may differ from U.S. SPACs and securities may be subject to foreign withholding taxes.

Small-Cap Risk. SPACs will have a more limited pool of companies with which they can pursue a business combination relative to larger capitalization companies. That may make it more difficult for a small capitalization SPAC to consummate a business combination. Liquidity refers to the efficiency or ease with which an asset or security can be converted into ready cash without affecting its market price.
